That means your message reaches more than 115,000 readers per issue. The industry's core trade readership of builders, renovators and contractors accounts for more than 100,000 readers each issue.

The numbers of those reading Home BUILDER Magazine is only one measure. Our engaged audience reads most of the magazine – long-time, loyal readers who keep the magazines handy and, most important, working readers who take action to find, contact and buy from the advertisers.
