AirRenew™

The only gypsum board that clears the air. So take a deep breath and relax.

Indoor air contains many pollutants and volatile organic compounds (VOC*s). The VOC*s are found in furniture, carpets, cleaning materials, and many other everyday items. With the growing awareness of the importance of indoor air quality, particularly in residences, schools, offices and hospitals, it's time to clear the air.

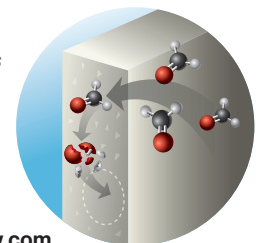

AirRenew™ is the only gypsum board that actively improves air quality.

- Permanently removes VOC*s by converting them into safe, inert compounds.
- Absorbs VOC*s for up to 75 years, even after multiple renovations, based on tests and analysis.
- Recyclable and works with most paint and wallpaper.
- Provides enhanced moisture and mold resistance using M2Tech® technology.

Only AirRenew™ improves air quality, providing a healthier environment and peace of mind for generations.

*AirRenew™ captures VOC*s and converts them into inert compounds that cannot be released back into the air.*

“Hats Off” It’s Time for Some Congratulations!

In our representations to government, a constant CHBA theme is the importance of “smart government” and “smart regulation” principles.

What this comes down to is the need for government to base its policies, actions and regulations on two things:

- a disciplined process that starts with good data and analysis, and considers all options and impacts, and
- a full appreciation that regulations — particularly those that impact housing affordability and choice — should be the last resort, not the first one.

The “smart government” approach is the key to getting beyond the sort of silo thinking that leads to contradictory government policies, unintended consequences and ever-increasing added costs for our customers.

Pointing to the benefits of the “smart government” approach will always be a high priority for the CHBA. And it’s just as important for the Association to give proper recognition to government when it “gets it right” in this area.

“Hats Off” to the OHBA and the Government of Ontario

The CHBA has long opposed the use of inclusionary zoning as a means of providing housing for those in need.

By imposing such requirements, municipalities simply ‘privatize’ what should be the public costs of addressing an important social issue. Instead of all taxpayers contributing to a solution to this problem, only those wanting to buy a new home pay.

This is blatantly unfair, and it is wrong.

More significantly, there is considerable research showing that inclusionary zoning simply doesn’t work, and actually contributes to increased housing costs, undermining housing affordability for everyone.

So it was very encouraging to learn that, through the efforts of the Ontario Home Builders’ Association (OHBA), the Government of Ontario “got it right” and said no to inclusionary zoning.

The province’s recent Long-Term Affordable Housing Strategy, released late last year, declined to empower municipalities to enact inclusionary zoning requirements.

Instead, the Strategy focused on measures to reduce the barriers for secondary suites in communities across Ontario. A secondary suite is an affordable rental option, such as a basement apartment.

This new policy will enhance housing affordability, and benefit the province in other ways as well. More people will be able to purchase their first home, having the option of generating some rental income through a secondary suite. As well, homeowners with aging parents will now be able to create secondary suites, allowing aging in place, at considerable savings in terms of long-term health care costs.

This policy is also consistent with provincial objectives regarding housing intensification and better use of our existing infrastructure.

So I want to give a “hats off” to President Bob Finnigan and the OHBA for their hard work on this important issue, and to the Government of Ontario for doing the ‘smart’ thing.

‘Hats off’ to NRCan

I also want to give a ‘hats off’ to Natural Resources Canada (NRCan) for three recent consultation processes aimed at developing the ‘next generation’ of the R-2000 Initiative, the EnerGuide Rating System and ENERGY STAR for New Homes.

These three initiatives are important to our industry — they provide a solid foundation for voluntary, market-driven energy efficiency improvements in new and existing homes. And they serve a key role in educating consumers.

NRCan launched these three consultations based on the consensus process used by the Standards Council of Canada. This means all interested parties can participate as either Committee members or observers. Extensive involvement by provincial officials is part of the process. Meetings are well-focused, disciplined and results-oriented. And throughout the consultations, NRCan staff have done an excellent job of providing the research and analysis required by the Committees involved in the actual work.

I’m very impressed by what these three NRCan consultations are accomplishing, and the efficiency with which this is being done.

The CHBA has been involved in all three consultation processes, and while our point of view on specific issues doesn’t always prevail, we have no complaints about how these decisions are being made — discussions are disciplined, transparent and driven by good data and thorough analysis.

This is a model that I hope more government agencies will use; it would result in better decisions by governments at all levels.

Our Membership Remains Strong

The CHBA Membership Report for 2010 is now complete, and I’m happy to report another strong year for our Association.

In the face of challenging market conditions, CHBA membership grew slightly in 2010, and ended the year above 8,000 once again. Our 2010 membership level was above both the five-year and ten-year average, and

- 9 ▶ 2010 marked the second highest membership level ever achieved, topped only by 2008.

Perhaps most significantly, the Association's level of membership retention increased in 2010 to 87.6 per cent — a truly impressive achievement.

I look at our membership performance, and more specifically at our member retention performance, as the Association's "report card". On this basis, at the local, provincial and national levels, our members gave us an A+ in 2010.

So another "hats off" to all the volunteers and HBA staff who helped make this happen!

SAM Excitement

With the 2011 CHBA National Conference in Banff approaching quickly, the excitement over this year's National SAM Awards is certainly building. The 2010 SAM Finalists were announced just before Christmas, selected from among 371 entries from right across the country.

The "buzz" from the SAM judges is that this year's crop of SAM finalists includes some truly inspiring new home and renovation projects.

So I'm looking forward to the big night in Banff when we all get to see who travels home with a SAM trophy. It's going to be a great event, and I look forward to seeing all of you who will be there.

It's Been a Great Year

As we prepare for the 2011 CHBA National Conference in Banff, my term as your national President is drawing to a close.

It has truly been a great year, full of great experiences as I spent time with CHBA members across the country. I want to thank all of you for the opportunity to serve as your President. It was a real honour. We began last winter in Victoria with optimism about the economy and our business prospects. The year has produced some ups and downs, but our industry continues to perform very well in challenging times. For this, all CHBA members deserve recognition.

I am looking forward to continuing my work as Past President in CHBA's new Executive under President Vince Laberge. The CHBA is an amazing organization: We are strong, resilient and blessed with an incredible number of dedicated volunteers involved at the local, provincial and national levels. Thank you all for a memorable year.

CCDA-CHBA Apprenticeship System Reviewed

Following CHBA meetings with the Canadian Council of Directors of Apprenticeship (CCDA) to discuss provincial/territorial apprenticeship programs and the needs of the residential construction industry, a CCDA-CHBA Joint Project Report has been completed. The report provides a factual account from provincial apprenticeship authorities of the initiatives they have undertaken to address the Human Resource needs of the residential construction industry. The findings will be reviewed by the National Education and Training Advisory Committee and the CHBA will determine what further steps should be taken in concert with the CCDA.

Reno-SMART: Encouraging Energy Efficiency in Existing Housing

The CHBA's Task Group on Encouraging Energy Efficiency in Existing Homes met in October 2010, and a "Synthesis Report" has been prepared and the findings passed forward to Natural Resources Canada (NRCAN). The Task Group was established to garner the experience of professional renovators in identifying ways for government to encourage and support homeowner investment in energy efficiency upgrades in existing homes. The focus was on what works and what doesn't, and what this industry thinks an effective, cost-efficient, coordinated, "SMART government" approach should contain, including how to engage the capacities of the renovation sector.

Conference Calls

The 68th CHBA National Conference is right around the corner, and this year's speaker line-up promises to be one of the best yet, starting with the Opening Breakfast. CBC's Rex Murphy will deliver a "Call to Inspiration." Murphy's presentation will be followed by the Inaugural Address, which will welcome incoming CHBA President Vince Laberge.

Other Conference speakers include:

- Jeremy Gutsche, host of TrendHunter TV, founder of TrendHunter.com and award-winning author of Exploiting Chaos.
- Cameron Herold, one of Canada's most innovative business leaders and a leading force behind one of the most successful new business ventures of the last decade, 1-800-GOT-JUNK?
- Andrew Coyne, national editor for Maclean's magazine, will present at CHBA's Annual Economic Session in Act Two – Where is the Economy Headed from Here?
- Don Bell, one of the founders of WestJet, believes that "common-sense people management" starts at the top.

Let's work together to get the job done.

Reliable financing could make all the difference to your customers.

It can be hard for customers to commit to a job until they have financing in place. Since 1994, we have been helping home improvement dealers in Canada offer fast and convenient financing options for their customers with low monthly payments, competitive rates, and quick credit decisions. That's how you can benefit from signing up with the TD Financing Services Home Improvement Dealer Program. Our dedicated sales team will provide you with the support, training, and advice you need to service your customers.

Consistent. Reliable. Responsive.

Come see us at the Home Hardware Tough As Nails Show

The Home Hardware Tough As Nails Show is a part of our ongoing commitment to improve our contractors' business. Up to 1000 contractors and 60 manufacturers attend this four-hour trade show that is held in several locations nationwide every year.

Manufacturers provide valuable insight to their products in this fun and interactive environment.

Throw in some great door prizes, gold, silver and bronze medals for the Contractor Challenge Contests, and you have the makings of a really Big Show! Coming to a town near you.

SMART CHOICE® LTD. WARRANTY

Lifetime

LTD. WARRANTY TERM

Now, every GAF laminated shingle carries a FREE Lifetime Ltd. warranty!

Thanks to our exclusive Advanced Protection™ technology, every GAF laminated shingle now carries a Lifetime Ltd. warranty*. Even our Timberline® Prestique 30 shingles—North America's #1-selling shingles! So instead of trying to explain warranties to your customers, you can focus on selling them the right look for their home. Easy. Simple. It's what you'd expect from North America's largest roofing manufacturer.

* See limited warranty for complete coverage and restrictions. The word "lifetime" means as long as the original owner (or second owner, if the warranty was properly transferred during the Smart Choice Protection Period) owns the building on which the shingles were installed.

Natural Born Leader

This new kind of water heater saves homeowners approximately $320 a year* in water heating operational cost. The footprint is similar to a standard tank model, and it uses existing water and electrical connections.

Set yourself apart by installing the GE Hybrid water heater and giving homeowners the energy savings they're looking for. For more information call 1-855-742-6112

*Based on DOE test procedure and comparison of a 50-gallon standard electric tank water heater using 4881 kWh per year vs. the GE Hybrid water heater using 1856 kWh per year.

Markant by ACO HexaDrain™

HexaDrain is a wonderfully innovative plastic residential trench drain system. It offers an easy installation due to its few, simple, push-fit components which makes it ideal for residential landscapers or do-it-yourself enthusiasts. Typical applications include backyard patios, around swimming pools or in front of the garage. The product is available in black, silver, with a galvanized grate or a Brickslot grate.

2010 National Model Construction Codes Building • Fire • Plumbing

The 2010 Codes provide the minimum requirements for safe and healthy built environments, and are used as models for virtually all building and fire regulations in Canada.

The new 2010 Codes:

- Include close to 800 technical changes since 2005
- Address technological advances and health and safety concerns
- Are indispensable for building, fire and plumbing officials
- Are a must-have for construction professionals and educators

Choose from:

- Print format (binder and soft cover)
- Electronic format (downloadable PDF or online subscription)

Order your 2010 Codes from NRC Construction's virtual store at www.nrc-cnrc.gc.ca/virtualstore

Visit www.nationalcodes.ca or call 1-800-672-7990 or 613-993-2463 (Ottawa-Gatineau and U.S.) for more information.

The 2010 National Model Construction Codes are published by National Research Council Canada and prepared under the direction of the Canadian Commission on Building and Fire Codes in partnership with Canada's provinces and territories.

Coming in February 2011

Free online presentations on the most significant changes in the 2010 Codes.

INSPIRE

In today's marketplace, value, quality and services are simply expected.

To stand out from the competition, you have to deliver dreams.

You have to be driven by your imagination and skill.

You have to create excitement and craft magic.

YOU HAVE TO INSPIRE.

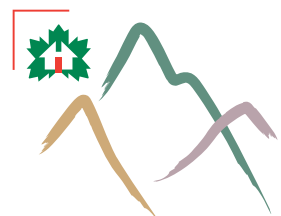

The CHBA 2011 National Conference will explore what it takes to inspire. It will examine how you can harness the full potential of your business. It will focus on being the best you can be - unique and inspired. This is the key to enduring success.

So plan to be in Banff next February 25th to 27th for an inspiring Conference.

For more information, and online registration, please visit: www.chba.ca/conference
